Circular No. 43/2026/TT-BTC dated 20/04/2026, amending and supplementing some articles of Circular 202/2014/TT-BTC guiding the method of preparing and presenting consolidated financial statements.

Statement of Compliance with Accounting Standards and Accounting System

The Company has applied Vietnamese Accounting Standards and the accompanying guidance on these standards issued by the Government. The financial statements have been prepared and presented in full compliance with the current Vietnamese Accounting Standards, Vietnamese Enterprise Accounting System, and their accompanying guidance circulars.

2.3 . Basis of preparation of the consolidated financial statements

The Company's consolidated financial statements are prepared based on the consolidation of the Company's separate financial statements and the financial statements of the subsidiaries under its control (the subsidiaries), which are prepared for the accounting period from 01/01/2026 to 30/09/2026. Control is achieved where the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an investee so as to obtain benefits from its activities.

Non-controlling interests

Non-controlling interests represent the portion of profit or loss and net assets of a subsidiary attributable to equity holders who do not have control over the subsidiary.

2.4 . Accounting estimates

The preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements in compliance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Enterprise Accounting System, and the relevant statutory requirements applicable to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements require the Executive Board to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of liabilities, assets, and the presentation of contingent liabilities and assets as at the reporting date, as well as the reported amounts of revenue and expenses throughout the fiscal year.

Material estimates and assumptions in the consolidated financial statements include:

- Provisions for doubtful debts
- Provisions for decline in value of inventories
- Estimated useful life of fixed assets
- Classification and Provisions for financial investments
- Provisions for liabilities
- Estimation of prepaid expense allocation
- Estimation of corporate income tax

Estimates and assumptions are regularly evaluated based on past experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements and are considered reasonable by the Executive Board.

2.5 . Financial instruments*Initial recognitionFinancial assets

The company's financial assets include cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, other receivables, loans, and short-term investments. Upon initial recognition, financial assets are measured at their purchase price or cost, including any directly attributable expenses incurred during their acquisition or issuance.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities include payables to suppliers and other payables. Upon initial recognition, financial liabilities are measured at their issue price, plus any directly attributable costs incurred in connection with their issuance.

Subsequent measurement

Financial assets and liabilities were not measured at fair value as at the end of the fiscal year because Circular No. 210/2009/TT-BTC and current regulations require the presentation of financial statements and disclosures for financial instruments but do not provide guidance on the measurement and recognition of fair value for financial assets and liabilities.

2.6 . Cash and cash equivalents

Cash includes cash on hand and non-term deposits at banks.

Cash equivalents are short-term investments with maturities of no more than three months from the investment date. They are highly liquid, easily convertible into known amounts of cash, and not subject to significant risk of value changes during conversion to cash.

2.7 . Financial investments

Trading securities are initially recorded in the accounting records at cost, which includes the purchase price plus any purchase-related costs (if any), such as brokerage fees, transaction fees, information fees, taxes, levies, and bank charges. Subsequent to initial recognition, trading securities are measured at cost less any provision for impairment. Upon disposal or sale, the cost of trading securities is determined using the weighted average method.

Held-to-maturity investments comprise term deposits with banks held to maturity for the purpose of earning periodic interest income, and other held-to-maturity investments.

The Provisions for decline in value of investments as at the end of the period are as follows:

- For trading securities investments: Provisions are calculated based on the difference between the cost recorded in the accounting books and their market value at the time the Provision is recognized, provided the recorded cost is higher.
- For held-to-maturity investments: Provisions for doubtful debts are established based on the recoverability assessment, in accordance with legal regulations.

2.8 . Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are closely monitored based on various factors, including collection periods, debtors, currencies, and other elements as required by the company's management. Receivables are classified as current or non-current in the consolidated financial statements based on their remaining maturity as at the reporting date.

Provisions for doubtful debts are made for overdue receivables based on payment terms in contracts, loan agreements, contractual commitments, or debt commitments, as well as for receivables that are not yet due but are deemed unlikely to be collected. In addition, Provisions for doubtful debts are based on the principal payment period specified in the original contract, without any debt extensions agreed upon by the parties. Provisions are also made for receivables not yet due when the debtor is bankrupt, undergoing liquidation, missing, evading obligations, or when potential losses are anticipated.

2.9 . Inventory

Inventories are initially recorded at cost, which comprises the purchase price, processing costs, and other directly attributable expenses incurred to place the inventories in their present location and condition at the time of initial recognition. Subsequent to initial recognition, if the net realizable value of the inventories is lower than its cost at the time of preparing the financial statements, the inventories are measured at their net realizable value.

The net realizable value is estimated based on the inventories' selling price, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

The inventories' value is determined using the weighted average cost method.

Inventories are recorded using the perpetual method.

The Provision for a decline in inventory value at the end of the period is calculated as the difference between the inventory's cost and its net realizable value, provided the cost exceeds the net realizable value.

2.10 . Fixed assets

Tangible and intangible fixed assets are initially recorded at cost. During their use, these assets are presented at their cost, accumulated depreciation, and net carrying amount.

Subsequent measurement

If these costs lead to an increase in the future economic benefits expected from the tangible fixed asset, exceeding the initially assessed standard operating level, they are capitalized as an addition to the asset's cost.

Costs incurred after a fixed asset has been put into operation, such as repairs, maintenance, and overhauls, are recognized in the income statement for the period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation of fixed assets is calculated using the straight-line method, with the estimated depreciation periods as follows:

- Buildings and structures	05 - 20 years
- Machinery and equipment	03 - 07 years
- Means of transportation	05 - 06 years
- Office equipment	03 - 05 years
- Other tangible fixed assets	03 - 05 years
- Time-limited land use rights	As per land use rights certificate
- Software	05 years

2.11 . Construction in progress

Construction in progress includes fixed assets under acquisition or construction that have not been completed as at the end of the accounting period and are recognized at cost. These costs include expenses for construction, machinery and equipment installation, and other directly attributable cost.

2.12 . Prepaid expenses

Expenses incurred that relate to the results of multiple accounting periods are recognized as prepaid expenses and gradually allocated to the income statements of subsequent periods.

The calculation and allocation of long-term prepaid expenses to operating expenses in each accounting period are based on the nature and extent of the expenses, ensuring the selection of an appropriate allocation method and criteria.

The Company's prepaid expenses include:

- Prepaid land expenses include prepaid land lease payments, including amounts related to leased land for which the Company has obtained land use rights certificates but does not meet the criteria for recognition as intangible fixed assets in accordance with Circular No. 45/2013/TT-BTC issued by the Ministry of Finance on 25 April 2013, which provides guidance on the management, use, and depreciation of fixed assets. It also includes other costs incurred to secure the use of leased land. These expenses are recognized in the consolidated income statement using the straight-line method over the lease term as stated in the land lease agreement.
- Tools and equipment, which are assets held for use in the Company's normal business operations, each with a cost of less than 30 million VND and therefore not qualifying as fixed assets under prevailing regulations. The cost of such tools and equipment is allocated using the straight-line method over a period of one to two years.
- Repair expenses, which are recorded at cost and allocated using the straight-line method over their useful life, ranging from one to two years.
- Other prepaid expenses are recorded at cost and allocated using the straight-line method over their useful life, ranging from one to two years.

2.13 . Accounts payable

Accounts payable are monitored based on payment terms, creditors, currencies, and other factors as required by the Company's management. In the consolidated financial statements, accounts payable are classified as current or non-current based on their remaining maturity as at the reporting date.

2.14 . Provisions for liabilities

Provisions for liabilities can only be recorded under the following conditions:

- The company has a current obligation (legal or constructive) resulting from an event that has already occurred;
- A reduction in potential economic benefits may lead to the requirement to settle the liability;
- A reliable estimate of the liability value can be provided.

The provision for liabilities represents the most reasonable estimate of the amount required to settle current obligations as at the end of the fiscal year.

Expenses related to provisions for liabilities that were initially recognized can only be offset against those provisions.

Provisions for liabilities are recognized as operating expenses of the accounting period. Any excess of the unused provisions from prior period over the provision amount for the accounting period shall be reversed and recorded as a reduction in operating expenses.

The provision for liabilities is an annual salary reserve fund established to cover periods of operational suspension or reduced business activity due to natural disasters or pandemics, and is appropriated from the Company's net profit after tax.

2.15 . Owner's Equity

Owner's equity is recorded based on the actual capital contributed by the shareholders.

Undistributed earnings reflect the business performance (profit or loss) after corporate income tax, including the allocation of profits or the handling of losses by the company.

Dividends payable to shareholders are recognized as liabilities on the company's Statement of financial position after the Board of Directors announces the dividend distribution and the Viet Nam Securities Depository and Clearing Corporation (VSDC) confirms the record date for dividend entitlement.

2.16 . Revenue

Revenue is recognized when the economic benefits that the company will receive can be reliably measured. Revenue is determined based on the fair value of amounts received or expected, less trade discounts, sales Provisions, and sales returns. The following specific conditions must also be met for revenue recognition:

Revenue from sale of goods

- The Company has transferred significant risks and rewards associated with ownership of the products or goods to the buyer;
- The Company no longer retains control over or managerial involvement in the goods as an owner;

Revenue from services

- The amount of work completed as at the consolidated Statement of financial position date is measurable;

Financial income

Income from interest, royalties, dividends, shared profits, and other financial activities is recognized when both of the following conditions are met:

- The economic benefits from the transaction are anticipated to be realized;
- Revenue can be measured reliably.

Dividends and shared profits are recognized when the company is entitled to receive them from its equity investments.

2.17 . Cost of goods sold and services rendered

The cost of goods sold and services rendered represents the total costs incurred for finished goods, merchandise, materials sold, and services rendered to customers during the period. These costs are recognized in accordance with the revenue generated during the period and in compliance with the principle of prudence. Losses of materials and goods in excess of allowable limits, abnormal costs beyond standard levels, and inventory losses—after accounting for the responsibilities of related individuals or entities—are fully and promptly recognized in the cost of goods sold for the period, even if the related goods or products have not yet been confirmed as sold.

2.18 . Financial expenses

The expenses recorded as financial expenses include:

- Expenses or losses associated with financial investment activities;
- Losses from the liquidation or transfer of short-term securities, as well as transaction costs related to the sale of securities;

The items mentioned above are recognized based on the total amount incurred during the accounting period, without being offset against financial income.

2.19 . Corporate income taxa) Deferred income tax liabilities

Deferred income tax liabilities are determined based on taxable temporary differences.

Deferred income tax liabilities are determined using the current corporate income tax rates, based on the applicable tax rates and tax laws effective as at the end of the fiscal year.

b) Current and deferred corporate income tax expenses

Current corporate income tax expenses are determined based on taxable income for the year and the corporate income tax rate applicable during the current fiscal year.

Deferred corporate income tax expenses are determined based on deductible temporary differences, taxable temporary differences, and the corporate income tax rate.

Current corporate income tax expenses are not offset against deferred corporate income tax expenses.

c) Current corporate income tax rate

During the accounting period from 01/01/2026 to 30/09/2026, the applicable corporate income tax rate is 20% for taxable income derived from business activities.

2.20 . Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss after tax attributable to ordinary shareholders of the Company (adjusted for appropriations to the Bonus and welfare Fund and the executive bonus fund) by the weighted average number of outstanding ordinary shares during the year.

2.21 . Related parties

Parties are considered related if they have the ability to control or exert significant influence over the other party's decisions relating to financial and operational policies. The Company's related parties include:

- Entities that, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, have control over, are controlled by, or are under common control with the Company, including parent companies, subsidiaries, and associates;
- Individuals who, directly or indirectly, hold voting rights in the Company and have significant influence over it, key management personnel of the Company, and close family members of such individuals;
- Entities over which the individuals mentioned above, directly or indirectly, hold significant voting power or exercise significant influence.

In identifying related party relationships for the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements, the Company places emphasis on the nature of the relationship rather than its legal form.
